

Account/Sales Manager Position
Florida, NY Corporate Offices

Highground Industrial, LLC is looking for an aggressive, well organized, and confident individual with the drive and determination to develop leads, create new work, and manage existing accounts in the demolition and environmental contracting arena. Must have excellent communication skills and an incredible desire to succeed. Prior experience with sales or within the industry is a plus, but not required.

Highground was established in 2011 and has quickly become an industry leader in Decontamination, Decommissioning, Demolition, Environmental Remediation, and Brownfields Redevelopment Services throughout the Tri-State area consisting of NY, NJ, and PA. Our core clients consist of Developers, Commercial/Industrial Property Owners, Institutions, Health Care Facilities, and State Agencies.

This is a full time salaried position with a great sales commission package and health care benefits. We only are interested in the best and the brightest candidates.
